Annual Assessment Report
for
Early Childhood Education

1. What are the Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs) for your unit? How do you inform the public and other stakeholders (students, potential students, and the community) about your SLOs?

   Student Learning Outcomes for Early Childhood Education:
   1. Plan a safe, healthy learning environment.
   2. Advance children’s physical and intellectual development.
   3. Implement positive strategies to support children’s social and emotional development.
   4. Establish productive relationships with families.
   5. Implement strategies to manage an effective program operation.
   6. Maintaining a commitment to professionalism.
   7. Be familiar with a variety of observing and recording techniques to document children’s development
   8. Understand and apply principles of child growth and development.

   UAM-CTC Student Learning Outcomes for Early Childhood Education are provided to both prospective and current students in the Course Syllabi (Appendix A) and the UAM CTC Informational Program book (Appendix B), and the ECE brochures (Appendix C). Also, the learning outcomes can be found on-line at http://www.uamont.edu/uamctc/pdf/ece2012.pdf.

2. Describe how your unit’s Student Learning Outcomes fit into the mission of the University.

   | The mission of the University of Arkansas at Monticello shares with all universities is the commitment to search for truth, understanding through scholastic endeavor. | Knowledge is enhanced and shared through SLO1 as students plan safe and healthy learning environments. The intellectual content of society is promoted and preserved through SLO3 as students are taught to implement positive strategies to support children’s social and emotional development. Students are educated for critical thought by understanding and applying principles of child growth and development (SLO8). |
   | The University seeks to enhance and share knowledge, to preserve and promote the intellectual content of society, and to educate people for critical thought. |  |

The University provides learning experiences that enables students to synthesize knowledge, communicate effectively, use knowledge and technology with intelligence and responsibility, and act creatively within their own and other cultures.

The University strives for excellence in all its endeavors. Educational opportunities encompass the liberal arts, basic and applied sciences, selected professions, and vocational/technical preparation. These opportunities are founded in a strong program of general education and are fulfilled through contemporary disciplinary curricula, certification programs, and vocational/technical education or workforce training.

The University assures opportunities in higher education for both traditional and nontraditional students and strives to provide an environment that fosters individual achievement and personal development.

Students are provided learning experiences that enable them to synthesize knowledge, communicate effectively, use knowledge and technology with intelligence and responsibility, and act creatively within their own cultures through establishing productive relationships with families (SLO 4). Students are taught early childhood teaching methods from various cultures (SLO 5). Students are required to be familiar with a variety of observing and recording techniques to document children's development (SLO 7) which enables them to synthesize knowledge, communicate effectively, and use technology responsibly.

Students are provided educational opportunities for their vocational/technical preparation through SLO 6 (maintaining a commitment to professionalism). Students are taught how to prepare for the early childhood education classroom and the importance of confidentiality in relation to children and their families.

ECE students range from young people who have recently graduated from high school to older students who seek a career change or perhaps are starting a career for the first time. Individual achievement through tests, hands-on assignments, and Practicum assignments are required. All of the early childhood SLOs support this part of the University's mission statement.

The University of Arkansas at Monticello College of Technology Crossett Early Childhood Department further seeks to fulfill its mission by offering a Department Mission Statement (Appendix D).
3. Provide an analysis of the student learning data from your unit. How is this data used as evidence of learning?

An analysis of the data indicates that more students leave the program after receiving the CP than stay for the TC. After input from other EC instructors, daycare directors, and ECE students, it was determined that more students are completing the CP and not the TC because daycares are requiring students to complete the CP.

The instructor measures the students’ success by their class participation, ECE assignments (Appendix E) and written examinations (Appendix F). The ECE curriculum includes required practicum courses that challenge students to integrate skills learned from theory courses into their work with children. These skills are assessed by the mentor teacher (Appendix G) and instructor (Appendix H). Students are required to complete 225 practicum hours (Appendix I). A review of the Skills Assessment Reviews by instructor indicates that students perform well in establishing productive relationships with families but are lacking in understanding and applying principles of child growth and development.

Also, videos are used to enhance and verify textbook material. Semester assignments are assigned in each course of study to reinforce theory and lab results. After the video, students were required to answer evaluative questions that indicated that they understood the objectives. All data is graded, compared, and used to verify evidence of learning among all students. For example, students were given a written examination on August 30, 2010. Six students out of 15 scored below average. The test questions that were missed by most of the students were reviewed, and students were given the opportunity to discuss and explain why they thought their answer was correct.

The Early Childhood Education program begin during the 2010-11 school year, therefore there were no graduates for ECE in June 2011. Four students completed the program in June 2012. Twelve students were enrolled for the 2010-11 school year. As we have more graduates, we will begin assembling program data referencing completion rates, placement rates, and licensure reports. Also, follow-up surveys will be completed on each graduate (Appendix J). In order to improve student learning, the instructor will provide student exit surveys and survey employers.
4. Based on your analysis of student learning data in Question 3, include an explanation of what seems to be improving student learning and what should be revised.

In the past, the Early Childhood department has offered courses for the Certificate of Proficiency as night classes only. The Certificate of Proficiency class (Foundations in ECE) will be offered earlier in the day starting with the Fall 2012 semester. The reason for the time change of the CDA classes is due to the fact that most students working in daycares are allowed to leave at 3:30 pm, and they need to be at the daycares very early the next morning. Students stressed wanting to meet early in the evening so they could be more rested when working with the children the next day. ECE students are more capable of working with young children and teaching them cognitive, social, emotional, and physical skills if they are more rested the next day. UAM-CTC will consider offering a portion of the Certificate of Proficiency classes during this time frame if it proves to meet the needs of working students and recruits nontraditional students.

5. Other than course level/grades, describe/analyze other data and other sources of data whose results assist your unit to improve student learning.

Each Early Childhood course consists of assignments that compel students to develop and practice oral and written communication skills as well as enhance vocabulary. Early Childhood instructors will continue to use publisher test banks and teacher-made tests (and analysis of test questions) to determine the students’ acquisitions of the course/program SLO’s.

The Early Childhood instructors will continue to observe and evaluate students during practicum hours. Instructors offer critique and advice to students.

Mentor evaluations of Practicum students are provided as outside feedback (Appendix G) during Practicum hours. The instructor analyzes the questions that are answered by the mentor teacher. Seven of the twelve students did not receive a high score on question number ten of the mentor evaluation. Therefore, developmentally appropriate teaching strategies were re-taught in class using role playing and pretending students were in a classroom teaching children.

Students are provided 45 Traveling Arkansas Professional Pathways (TAPP) hours during Tech Child Guidance course (Appendix K). Minimum Requirements states that daycare employees must complete at least 15 hours in-service training or outside workshop training each year in continuing Early Childhood Education that is approved by the Division (Appendix L). TAPP hours are provided by the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville and they are approved by the Division. TAPP improves student learning by providing the teacher with materials and training in how to teach students the importance of social-emotional learning to children’s overall health and development. Also, TAPP is used to teach students how to deal with antisocial behavior of young children. For example, students are taught the difference in a child’s temper tantrum and meltdown and how to appropriately deal with both when teaching young children. This relates to implementing positive strategies to support children’s social and emotional development (SLO number 3). The Early Childhood instructors may continue to provide their students with TAPP hours if they continue to receive training in Russellville or Little Rock as required. Requiring students to join the TAPP registry reinforces important concepts such as; the commitment to professionalism, standards for educational requirement for child care providers, being life-long learners and advocacy for children and families. The TAPP registry is a product of the Division’s and Arkansas Early Childhood Education Association’s desire to create a data base of early childhood educators and their levels of education/training. Students do not have to leave this area because they are provided with the TAPP training in the classroom by the ECE instructor.

6. As a result of the review of your student learning data in previous questions, explain what efforts your unit will make to improve student learning over the next assessment period. Be specific indicating when, how often, how much, and by whom these improvements will take place.

In order to improve student learning, students will be given a pre-test in Foundations of ECE class and post-test in Foundations of ECE class. This will allow the instructor to determine if student learning did take place. Students will be given a copy of the mentor evaluation form before they go into the day care so they will know what will be evaluated and the student will have a chance to ask questions.

Early Childhood instructors will use SLOs to create test questions before creating lesson plans. This will help to ensure that students are tested on material that is covered in class. This will be practiced in all ECE classes.

Early Childhood instructors have 90 hours of professional development training to stay abreast of changes in the ECE field so that students will be on the cutting edge of changes in the field. Students will be encouraged to attend professional development training and report back to the class of current issues.

7. What new tactics to improve student learning has your unit considered, experimented with, researched, reviewed or put into practice over the past year?

Reality Works was purchased for the ECE program. This consists of life-like babies that are used to demonstrate the effects and signs of Fetal Alcohol Syndrome, babies that are affected by drug use during pregnancy, and Shaken Baby Syndrome. These were used during Tech Inclusion of Young Children with Special Needs, Environments in ECE, and Development and Curriculum of ECE.
UAM-CTC worked with the ECE program that was offered by Arkansas Game and Fish Commission. This program helped to improve student learning because it provided them with activities-based curriculum designed for teachers of students whose ages are three to seven years. It is an ECE program that builds on a children’s sense of wonder about nature and invites them to explore wildlife. This program was incorporated in Tech Methods and Materials, Development and Curriculum in ECE, and Foundations of ECE.

The ECE program provided students with guest speakers that have special needs and/or parents of children with special needs in Tech Inclusion of Young Children with Special Needs. As students were allowed to observe and talk to an adult with a special need, they were encouraged to understand the importance that they play when working with a special needs child. They learned this when the guest speaker discussed how their ECE teachers helped/harmed them. Also, they observed what to expect when working with special needs students. This helped to improve student learning by helping them to implement positive strategies to support children’s social and emotional development and establish productive relationships with families.

8. How do you ensure shared responsibility for student learning and assessment among students, faculty and other stakeholders?

Students: The ECE instructor explains to students their responsibilities at the beginning of each course (Appendix M). The students are informed that they are responsible for the end result of each project. The students understand that they are responsible for turning their work in by the deadlines that are made by the instructors. Students are required to sign a document stating that they understand their responsibilities for each ECE course (Appendix N). Also, after the student completes the test, the instructor talks with them about the test.

Faculty: Math- Math instructors work closely with the ECE department in order to incorporate math skills that can and will be used during their ECE experience.

English Faculty: English instructors work closely with the ECE department in order to incorporate correct English skills when working with young children. ECE students understand the importance of correct oral English since young children learn these skills from their teachers and child care providers. The English instructors work closely with the ECE department in order to incorporate correct English skills when typing reports and ECE articles.

Computer Faculty: Computer instructors work closely with the ECE department in order to incorporate computer knowledge needed to help them develop skills that are needed for ECE. Students are given appropriate websites to use when working with young children.
Others- Employers, daycare owners, public preschool employees, and administrators work with the ECE department. They also agree to enter into a contract in order to allow practicum students to practice field experiences with young children in daycares and public preschools (Appendix O).

9. Describe and provide evidence of efforts your unit is making to recruit/retain/graduate students in your unit/at the University. (A generalized statement such as “we take a personal interest in our students” is not evidence.)

The College of Technology at Crossett ECE program coordinates coursework with our partner, the College of Technology ECE program at McGhee. By doing this, we create an environment where students can transfer between the two schools and all the departments. UAM-CTC aligned the ECE curricula with UAM-CTM. The ECE program faculty and staff meet regularly to discuss recommendations, changes, and updates to the ECE program.

In order to improve retention, UAM-CTC early childhood instructors meet monthly with ECE instructors from all areas of the state of Arkansas. These meetings are held at Pulaski Tech and are part of a Cohort. Collaborating with other ECE instructors helps the instructor to plan lessons, communicate positively with directors of daycares, and provides them with information concerning background checks. The instructor does NOT take from classroom time to attend these meetings.

Career Pathways provides gas vouchers, tuition, books, childcare, some supplies/uniforms, etc. This enables ECE students to utilize other funds such as Pell Grants, loans, and scholarships for living expenses. Students are provided phone numbers (office, cell, and fax) and e-mail addresses for each instructor. Instructors may also be reached by text. Instructors are available for meeting upon request. Email addresses are also provided for each student and all school correspondence and announcement are sent to students via their email account. These retention efforts lead to more graduates.

Mid-term grades are provided in writing to ECE students. Each student that is not making satisfactory academic progress is counseled for academic and lab performance.

A part-time Retention Specialist has been hired and does follow-up and intervention for students who are having attendance and academic problems.

The Early Childhood instructor will coordinate retention strategies with the retention specialist to decrease retention. Some examples are test taking skills, note-taking skills, and oral testing of special needs students.
The ECE unit volunteers to participate in College Goal Sunday. Students are given assistance with completing FASA forms on-line as part of College Goal Sunday. This activity provides an opportunity for recruiting new students.

The ECE instructor attends the annual Early Childhood Conference in Hot Springs, AR. The instructor receives lesson plan ideas and information relating to the developmental learning needs of young children. This information is provided to ECE students as an effort to retain them.

Course Name: Tech Inclusion of Young Children with Special Needs.
Course Number: HOEC 2173-03

This includes an introduction to the laws pertaining to people with special needs, the nature of specific disabilities, useful teaching strategies, planning and intervention issues in daily activities, and an approach to working with parents, paraprofessionals, and specialists.

Recent changes in the federal special education law, or IDEA, have strengthened the mandate for inclusion of young children with special needs in typical and natural environments where they have opportunities to interact with their peers and to participate as equal members of their community.

Student Learning Outcomes: Students who complete this course should be able to:

- Understand and apply principles of child growth and development with regards to atypical development in young children.
- Plan a safe, healthy inclusive learning environment for children with atypical development.
- Advance the physical and intellectual development of children with atypical development.
- Implement positive strategies to support the social and emotional development of children with atypical development.
- Establish productive relationships with families and include families in the process for developing IFSP/IEP’s and implementing these plans.

Outline:
1. An Inclusive Approach to Early Education
2. Federal Legislation
3. Inclusive Programs for Young Children
Classroom Policies:

Absences: Regular and prompt attendance is expected of all students enrolled at UAM-CTC and is necessary to maintain satisfactory progress. Attendance will be recorded for each student by course. A student will be placed on attendance probation once he/she has been absent 15% of the total scheduled hours of a course. When the student is absent 20% of the total scheduled hours of a course, the student will be officially notified in writing and dropped from the course. A letter grade of “F” will be recorded for the course unless official withdrawal by the student has been accomplished (see Withdrawal). The student will be notified of attendance probation in writing provided he/she has returned to school before reaching 20% absences. A student terminated for poor attendance may be considered for re-enrollment in the course at its next offering with the consultation and approval of the instructor and school administration. A student cannot use make-up time to reduce hours of absence any time during the school year. Each time a student is late for class or leaves early, the student will be charged a full hour or hours of absence (rounded up to the larger hour of time). In a case of extreme emergency, a student may request a leave of absence. A leave of absence must be requested in writing and may be granted or denied by the Director of Student Services. Written documentation supporting the request for a leave of absence must be provided prior to the granting of the leave or the first day back in class after the leave. The leave of absence must be for no less than seven (7) calendar days and for no more than 21 calendar days during a fall or spring semester or 10 calendar days during a summer term. If a student’s absences reach 20% of the total class hours and the student has not been approved for a leave of absence, the student will be dropped. No more than one such leave of absence can be granted in a twelve-month period. Upon receipt of proper documentation, absences caused by court subpoena, jury duty, military orders, or other government ordered visit(s) will be recorded but not included in the total cumulative hours of absence per course. The documentation must be submitted on the first day the student returns to school. Also, absences because of a natural disaster (as determined by the administration) will not be counted in the hours of absence. Agencies granting financial assistance will be notified as required of all absences of those students receiving financial aid. The policy of each agency regarding payment when a student is absent will apply in each case.

Academic Dishonesty: Academic dishonesty involves acts which may weaken or compromise the integrity of the educational process. Cheating, collusion, duplicity, and plagiarism are serious offenses. Since dishonesty in any form harms the individual, other students and the University, policies concerning academic dishonesty will be strictly enforced. If cheating, collusion, duplicity, or plagiarism is suspected, the instructor may, at his or her discretion, take any of the following actions: 1) issue a warning to the student; 2) lower the grade awarded to the student for the assignment or test; 3) require the student to redo the assignment or retake the test; 4) award no credit for the paper or test; or 5) award the student a failing grade for the course. For more information, refer to the Academic Dishonesty policy in the University’s catalog.

Cheating: Cheating includes, but is not limited to, the possession, receipt, use, buying, selling, or furnishing of unauthorized help while doing any of the following, but is not limited to assignments, documents, projects, reports and term papers, quizzes and tests, providing answers, and/or homework (copying homework, assignments, or answers from another student). Students shall not give, receive, offer, or solicit information on examinations, quizzes, etc. This includes but is not limited to the following classes of dishonesty: use during the examination of prepared materials, notes, or texts other than those specifically permitted by the instructor; collaboration with another student during the examination; buying, selling, stealing, soliciting, or transmitting an examination or any material purported to be the unreleased contents of coming examinations or the use of any such material; or substituting for another person during an examination or allowing such substitutions for oneself.

Collision: Collusion is defined as obtaining from another party, without specific approval in advance by the instructor, assistance in the production of work offered for credit, to the extent that the work reflects the ideas of the party consulted rather than those of the person whose name is on the work submitted.

Duplicity: Duplicity is to offer for credit identical or substantially unchanged work in two or more courses, without specific advanced approval of the instructors involved.

Plagiarism: Plagiarism is defined as adopting and reproducing as one’s own, to appropriate to one’s use, and to incorporate in one’s own work without acknowledgement the ideas or passages from the writings or works of others. Copying someone else’s works and submitting them as his or her own will NOT be tolerated.
Disorderly conduct: any behavior which disrupts the regular or normal functions of the University community is prohibited. These behaviors breach the peace or violate the rights of others. Infractions may result in disciplinary action.

Cell Phones: Please have phones turned off and put away during class.

Grade Reports: UAM will no longer mail grade reports to all students. You may access your grades through Weevil Net on the UAM homepage: http://www.uamont.edu/.

Students with Disabilities:
It is the policy of the UAM College of Technology – Crossett to accommodate individuals with disabilities pursuant to federal law and the College’s commitment to equal educational opportunities. It is the responsibility of the student to inform the instructor of any necessary accommodations at the beginning of the course. Any student requiring accommodations should contact the Office of Special Student Services.

Assignments: The following is a tentative schedule of assignments which can/may be changed at the discretion of the instructor. Class participation exercises are possible during any class meeting and may not be made up if student is not present. Classwork will not be made up. If a student is not present on the day the class completes classwork, they will receive a 0 for that assignment.

The student is responsible for contacting the instructor to make arrangements to make up a test during the instructor’s office hours. If the student fails to make up the test in accordance to the instructor’s schedule in the allotted time, he/she will receive a grade of “0” on the test. The ONLY exception is if the situation is deemed an extreme emergency at the discretion of the instructor.

EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

Program Description

The Early Childhood Education program prepares individuals for entering occupations in the childcare field. Successful graduates of the technical certificate program will be prepared to take advantage of opportunities such as the following: a classroom assistant in a private childcare center or nursery school; a classroom assistant in a Head Start or public school preschool classroom; a paraprofessional working with children with special needs; or as preparation for continuation of an early childhood education in a four-year institution.

The program combines classroom study and lab experience with infants, toddlers, and preschoolers. Through this curriculum individuals gain an understanding of the social, emotional, intellectual, and physical growth and development of young children. Students will learn to use materials, supplies, and equipment found in childcare situations through their classroom and laboratory experiences.

Student Learning Outcomes

Successful completers of this program will be able to:

● plan a safe, healthy learning environment.
● advance children’s physical and intellectual development.
● implement positive strategies to support children’s social and emotional development.
● establish productive relationships with families.
● implement strategies to manage an effective program operation.
● maintain a commitment to professionalism.

Exit: Early Childhood Education Technical Certificate 45
UAM-CTC offers post-secondary training to help individuals gain the knowledge and skills needed to enter and advance in their selected career. In all programs, you will be trained in the skills which employers say you will need in that particular occupational area. The staff works closely with business and industry to keep our programs responsive to the changing workplace. Each of our programs covers both the theory (class work) and the practical (lab work) aspects of the field. And, of course, you will be trained to use the needed equipment for the occupation you choose.

An applicant who does not have a high school diploma or equivalency will be given an opportunity to work toward earning the Arkansas High School Diploma (GED) free of charge.

Because of the high demands of some career areas, our programs frequently have more applicants than openings. Reapplication will be required after one year, and free refresher courses are available for all applicants.

Admissions Requirements

- Completed application for admission (no processing fee)
- Complete official high school or GED transcript, if first-time freshman
- Transcripts from all colleges attended
- Entrance Exam Scores (ACT, SAT, ASSET, or COMPASS)
- Immunization records against measles, mumps, and rubella (two doses)

Note: Technical courses required for technical certificate programs may be transferable toward a limited number of associate and baccalaureate degrees. Contact advisor for information regarding transferability.

The University of Arkansas at Monticello is committed to providing educational opportunities to all qualified students and employment opportunities to all persons, regardless of their economic or social status, and will not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, creed, gender, ethnic or national origin, disability, age or any legally protected class. The Office of Special Student Services has been designated to coordinate efforts to comply with all laws and regulations applicable to qualified individuals with disabilities, as required by Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. Inquiries concerning the application of all federal laws and regulations regarding discrimination should be directed to the Human Relations Officer, Officer of Finance and Administration, Babin Business Center, (870) 460-1021.
Early Childhood Education

The Early Childhood Education (ECE) Program prepares individuals for entering occupations in the childcare field. Successful graduates of the technical certificate program will be prepared to take advantage of opportunities such as the following: a classroom assistant in a private childcare center or nursery school; a classroom assistant in a Head Start or public school preschool classroom; a paraprofessional working with children with special needs; or as preparation for continuation of an early childhood education degree in a four-year institution.

The program combines classroom study and lab experience with infants, toddlers, and preschoolers. Through this curriculum, individuals gain an understanding of the social, emotional, intellectual, and physical growth and development of young children. Students will learn to use materials, supplies, and equipment found in childcare settings through their classroom and laboratory experiences.

Financial Aid

Even though our tuition and fees are very reasonable, we recognize that financial problems sometimes create a barrier to enrollment. We are committed to assisting eligible students to attain financial aid in the form of scholarships, grants, or loans through one or more local, state, or federal programs as well as federal and institutional work-study jobs. For complete information on financial assistance, contact our Student Services Coordinator at 870-364-6414, extension 116 or toll-free 866-323-3384.

Student Learning Outcomes

Successful completers of this program will be able to:
1) plan a safe, healthy learning environment.
2) advance children’s physical and intellectual development.
3) implement positive strategies to support children’s social and emotional development.
4) establish productive relationships with families.
5) implement strategies to manage an effective program operation.
6) maintain a commitment to professionalism.
7) be familiar with a variety of observing and recording techniques to document children’s development.
8) understand and apply principles of child growth and development.

Accreditations

UAM-CTC is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (a commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools) and the Council on Occupational Education. UAM-CTC programs are approved by the State Approving Agency for Veterans.

Child Development Associate (CDA)

The CDA training program provides students with the opportunity to develop knowledge and skill necessary to complete the Assessment and Competency Standards for the Child Development Associate credential. This certification is mandatory in many childcare facilities and educational settings. The CDA required twelve (12) credit hours of college courses that lead to a Certificate of Proficiency and provides eligibility to apply for national certification from the Council for Early Childhood Professional Recognition in Washington, D. C. The courses required for the CDA are noted in the graduation requirements that follow.
